Scientific Program: The five-day scientific program will be held from Monday July 20 till Friday July 24. It will consist of plenary lectures, invited lectures in three parallel sections (Ordinary Differential Equations, Partial Differential Equations, Numerical Methods and Applications), short communications, and posters. The participants are supposed to arrive on Sunday July 19. The official conference language will be English.

Conference contributions will be published as regular issues of the journal Mathematica Bohemica. All submitted papers will go through a common review procedure. The details will be announced in due time.

Conference site will be in Brno downtown, at the Faculty of Informatics of Masaryk University, Botanická 68a, Brno.

Accommodation for participants is available, in particular, in the Continental Hotel and in The Josef Taufer Student Dormitory, which are in 15 minutes walking distance (or 5 minutes by public transportation) from the conference site. The following prices are special offers that have been arranged for participants. (Order in the registration form.)

- Continental Hotel () category), Kounicova 6, Brno: a single room with breakfast costs 1050 CZK per night, a double room with breakfasts costs 1500 CZK per night.
- Josef Taufer Student Dormitory (Jana Babaka 3/5, Brno) is regularly used as a commercial hotel during school vacations and it offers apartments with two double rooms sharing one bath and a kitchenette. The participants may book either a bed in a double room or a whole double room as a single room. A single room with breakfast costs 600 CZK per night, a bed in a double room with breakfast costs 400 CZK per night

The Registration fee covers the conference material (program, abstracts, conference proceedings, etc.), the Welcome party, and the social program for Wednesday afternoon (trip to the Southern Moravia and other sights in Brno surroundings). The Farewell party (organized on Friday evening) is paid separately and it is not included in the Registration fee (it costs 30 EUR per person, order in the registration form).

The Registration fee varies according to the date of payment and is summarized in the following table (per person):
